

Winning at Bridge

By Marjorie Michelin

This six week course is designed for intermediate advancing players. It will consist of a series of lessons including advanced techniques for counting, squeezing, finessing, and end playing your way to successful declarer play.

You will learn to correctly plan your attack, leads and defense, to the demise of your opponent.

Conventions are tools to help reach the appropriate contract. You will learn how to use your conventions properly and at the appropriate time, will assist in arriving at the correct contract.

Everyone thinks they know a convention, but what is the rest of the story? For example, if your opponents bid Michaels do you know what your follow up bids are? Do you take practice finesses when you know where all the cards are? How can you counteract the Michaels convention?

Bridge is a logical game; this course will enable you to assess situations, counteract conventions and improve your technique in play of the hand and defense.

Most intermediate players make common errors; this course is designed to assist you in eliminating these errors, along with useful tricks of the trade. Partnership trust, partnership agreements are a must.

The whole course will have elements of card play and suit combinations, counting, bidding after conventional calls, suit preference, and attitude signals, interspaced throughout.

An emphasis will be placed upon these elements of the game, through play of the hand examples, lectures and quizzes.

The format will be Lecture followed by Card Play and or quizzes with hand outs at the end of the lesson.
